

ALLIANCE MISSIONARY PASTOR NSISKAK EKONG

- Represents a partnership with the Lutheran Church of Nigeria
- Pastoral support and church planting in Kingston and outlying areas
- Leadership and vision for men's and children's ministries

Alliance missionary Pastor Nsiskak Ekong is a church planter in Jamaica, called by the Lutheran Church of Nigeria (LCN).

Rev. Ekong serves as the Pastor of Faith Lutheran Church, a mission in downtown Kingston, where he provides Word and Sacrament ministry, conducts worship services, leads Bible classes and teaches catechism classes to adults and children. In addition, he coordinates with Rev. Obot Ite to make visits and conduct services at a preaching station outside of Kingston. His focus on encouraging lay leaders, expanding outreach efforts in the downtown area, and establishing the church's mercy is a beacon of light to people living in one of the most impoverished areas of Jamaica.

Nsiskak and his wife, Mmaido, are parents to a college-age son, Enwongo, who joins them on the mission field. Please pray for this family as they serve in a difficult situation, far from home and family.
